

There has been a great deal of interest in opening CellSonic Clinics and we are asked what is the minimum requirement? The minimum is shown in this photograph on the left of a patient being cured of gangrene in her own apartment. In this case the machine is taken to the patient.

In the photo on the right is a private hospital in Bucharest which has every facility and serves rich clients from the middle east.

The CellSonic clinics already opened in Poland and Germany and soon in England are luxurious to attract paying clients. They also instil confidence in local doctors to refer patients to the clinic.

CellSonic heals wounds, removes pain and solves problems such as psoriasis that drugs never solve. It is also the lowest cost of cure. Therefore, CellSonic suits all countries, rich and poor.

Message yesterday from Burundi:

We have succeeded in getting a grant and have organized training with all stakeholders on CellSonic medical equipment. We have decided finally to build a Clinic at Gatumba, bordering with DR Congo and Rwanda.

So whether you are in Gatumba or Geneva, you can have a CellSonic clinic.
